You be the Judge
By: Hannah Carter

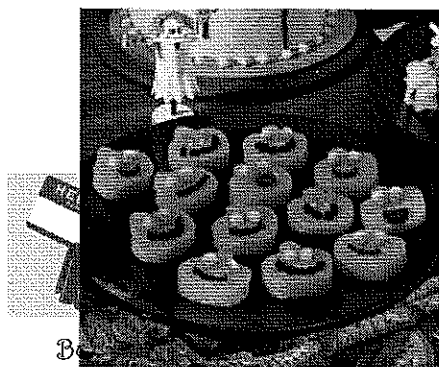

One day Jimmy went to school. It was his birthday. A man named Buck gave him a cool pocket knife for his birthday, but the odd thing was Jimmy had never seen Buck before. Jimmy, deciding not to be rude, reluctantly took the present and said thank you. Then Jimmy kept walking to school and on a telephone pole was a wanted picture of Buck his new friend! At first he thought nothing of it and kept on walking. So he got to school and as he lined up to go to class his new present fell out of his pocket. A teacher saw the present and sent him to the office for having a weapon at school. The principal asked him where he got it and Jimmy told him all about Buck and how he gave it to him. The principal told him about the rule and he had to suspend him for three days from school and how it would look on Jimmy's permanent record. He was very upset and walked home glumly. On the walk home he saw Buck's picture on the wanted sign again and read what he was wanted for it said "WANTED FOR CRIMES AGAINST CHILDREN."

Should Jimmy still be suspended, you be the judge:

OMS Cheerleading of 2011~2012

This year we have eight cheerleaders. Lately, we have been cheering at games, pep rallies, and we even have a parade coming up.

Cheerleading is all about teamwork and learning not just the basics of cheerleading, but also the hardwork of reaching a goal.

In some of our new cheers we are doing lifts. Lifts are a way to hold up someone to show rewards or accomplishments. Cheerleading is being a role model and showing what we can do for others. We don't just cheer for ourselves, we also cheer for the people who need it or may need help getting through something. Cheerleading shows us the importance of life is helping others.

Caring is a big part of our cheerleading experience. It's all about knowing how to help others or knowing why to help others or problems. Here's a couple cheers that you may want to learn.

World Trade Center

By: Aleks Kester

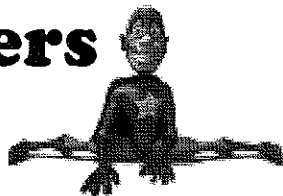

I was on my way to work I was with some friends we went to go get some breakfast. We ate for ten minutes after that we went to go to work. I had a briefcase with me. I went to go to my office. I had to do paper work. It was sunny and nice. I was on the 80th floor when I was doing paper work. I heard a noise coming and I looked out the window. I saw the plane hit the building. It was like a bomb. I couldn't move because there was stuff on me. I called for help, but nobody heard me. I just laid there until I heard someone.

I heard someone coming. I yelled, "Help!" and they heard me. It was a firefighter. He moved the stuff that was on me and he helped me get up. He was trying to find the way out. Stairways C and D were filled with debris, so he took us to stairway B. We hurried down stairs. It took an hour to get to the lobby. We found the exit and we went outside.

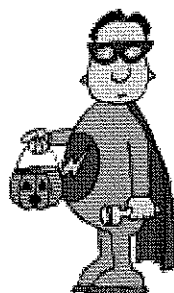

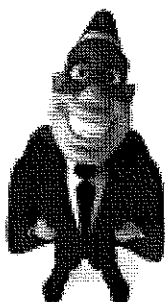

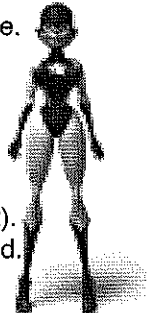

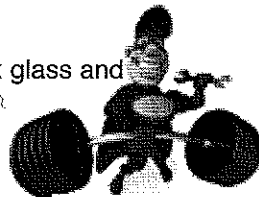

We saw people looking at the fire. We ran four blocks. When we turned around, the building collapsed. We ran because there was a dust cloud coming towards us. When the cloud hit us, it was black. I couldn't see where I was going. I found a door. I went inside. It was a hotel. I waited until the smoke cleared.

When the smoke cleared, I went outside. It was like a war zone. Everyone was white. I found a police officer. I told him where the way out was. I was confused. I found the way out and finally went home.
